AGILE MINDSET

What We're Aiming For

Today's rapid changing environment requires leaders with an "Agile Mindset" like that of a fighter jet pilot. You need to be clearly focused on your mission while adapting to changes, managing stress and ambiguities, just like those pilots navigating their fighter jets into the enemy air space.

Every leadership competency is rooted in thinking. Actively being aware of your character and developing qualities of an agile mindset will sharpen the way you see your strengths and potentials as you advance your personal and organization's goals and aspirations.
